

United States Mint Opens Sales for 2014 American $1 Coin and Currency Set Nov. 20

November 13, 2014

WASHINGTON — The United States Mint will begin accepting orders for 2014 American $1 Coin and Currency Set (product code TA9) on Nov. 20 at noon Eastern Standard Time (EST).

Priced at $13.95, the set consists of a tri-fold presentation folder that holds one uncirculated finish 2014 Native American $1 Coin from the United States Mint at Denver and one 2013 $1 note from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The set has interesting historical information about the Lewis and Clark Expedition and a sleeve to cover the folder. A Certificate of Authenticity is printed on the package.

The reverse (tails side) of the 2014 Native American $1 Coin depicts a Native American man offering a pipe while his wife offers provisions of fish, corn, roots, and gourds. In the background is a stylized image of the face of William Clark's compass highlighting "NW," the area in which the expedition occurred. Inscriptions are "UNITED STATES OF AMERICA" and "$1."

The coin's obverse (heads side) retains the central figure of the "Sacagawea" design first produced in 2000 with the inscriptions "LIBERTY" and "IN GOD WE TRUST."

Orders will be accepted at <http://catalog.usmint.gov> and at 1-800-USA-MINT (872-6468), while hearing- and speech-impaired customers with TTY equipment may order at 1-888-321-MINT.
